Equipping Christian mentors to make disciples and train leaders the way Jesus did

What is the best way to form mentors and leaders?

The way Jesus did! He taught them with words, yes, but He also showed them by His life how to live as a disciple. Being present, having life-on-life impact, is the best way. That is why we ensure that when we give books, recipients are trained as disciples by people who “walk the talk,” people whose lives are worthy of imitation.

Multiplying the Impact

For many years, French pastor and mentor Alain Stamp (pictured) has been going to Francophone Africa to train mentors who will train other mentors. In this way he has multiplied himself and prepared a new generation of leaders. Synergie Francophone wants to supply biblical books to these new mentors so that they can make disciples the way that Jesus did and train another generation of mentors to pick up this vital ministry of developing leaders.

Will you join us in equipping mentors with books so that they may impact lives by word and example?

Let us introduce to you the COMMUNITY OF MENTORS IN AFRICA:

Landry Abraham from Gabon attended two evangelists' fora in Cameroon and Brazzaville, Rep. of Congo, and two training courses on mentoring. He has trained a full-time evangelist in Gabon.

University Bible Group Pastor Ghislain Yamongbe Guezo founded a publishing house in Benin. He team-taught a year-long mentoring course via Zoom using the book Multiplying Leaders.

Also from Benin, Maxime Kakpo is President of the Federation of Evangelical Missions and Churches of Benin. He took the one-year distance training course.

Maxime Kasongo Mwenyi is an ophthalmologist in the DRC who shares the vision for mentoring and has taught with Alain in Burkina Faso, Mali, and the DRC.

Didier Baloussa has participated in several evangelists' fora. His national responsibilities include leading mentorship development in the Central African Republic.

Daniel Nassa, a key influencer, pastor, retired businessman, and member of France Évangélisation (evangelism), organized several fora and is very active in evangelism in Burkina Faso.

Gautier Pomkap is a pastor who has organized several fora in Yaoundé, Cameroon, and served as the Central African correspondent for the Forum of Evangelists.

Jérémie Ouédraogo is administrative director and treasurer of France for Christ. Jérémie has travelled to Africa in place of Alain and hopes to make more trips to give training.

Annette Nikièma is an evangelist and oncology nurse in Burkina Faso, the only nurse in the country with training in palliative care.

She was discouraged by the deaths of patients she could not soothe; the issue of pain is very poorly managed in Francophone Africa. Alain told her about palliative care, which was unknown in her country. He raised funds for her to receive Hospice Africa training in Uganda. Since then, she has provided training in the field of palliative care and is involved with the country's health authorities.

David Nolent is the leader of Top Chrétien, which provides and develops online tools and services for the French-speaking world, including Bible reading plans.

Samuel Bouix is the European Director of Global Recordings Network, a mission organization that provides resources in hundreds of languages for least-reached people.

Adeline Tchiakoua from Cameroon is an evangelist, teacher, and trainer. She works with CRU Cameroon and teaches at the Evangelical Theological Seminary in Yaoundé. By faith and perseverance, her ministry is making inroads into her country.

Pastor-Evangelist Jeff Simdinatome organized an evangelists' forum in Lomé, Togo. Alain first met him in Cape Town in 2010. He has taught with Alain on several occasions in various countries and completed the year-long Zoom training.

THE COMMUNITY OF MENTORS IN FRANCE

Philippe Monnery has been mentored by Alain for more than 15 years. He is Vice President of the National Council of French Evangelicals, Director of France Évangélisation, and Leader of the young leaders' program, Lausanne Movement Europe.

PLEASE HELP US TO MULTIPLY THE WORKERS BY PROVIDING BOOKS FOR THEIR TRAINING CONFERENCES IN POORER FRANCOPHONE COUNTRIES.

Yes, I want to provide resources for a new generation of mentors training evangelists and other mentors.
