Nathan, Annie, Benjamin, and Caleb Phillips this past summer on the top of Puy-de-Dôme, a dormant volcano in France

SF missionaries the Phillips continue to serve the French-speaking world from Montélimar, France. At the IMÉAF print shop, Nathan designed two new French tracts on the hope and joy of Christ, 100,000 of which will be distributed throughout Europe and Africa. IMÉAF produced 100,000+ wordless brochures to communicate the Gospel globally. IMÉAF also printed France's most well-known songbooks for evangelical Christians as well as other resources for reaching and equipping our French-speaking brothers and sisters in Christ. The Phillips ask us to...

- Praise God IMÉAF employee Jacques-Olivier is fully back to work after his motorcycle accident.
- Praise God for the books and magazines printed at IMÉAF that reveal God's heart and work in the world.
- Praise God for Benjamin's new therapy schedule.
- Pray for a successful school year for Benjamin and Caleb.
- Pray there are no problems with customs in shipping resources.
- Pray for miraculous provision by February 2026, so that IMÉAF can continue its ministry.

Equipping Teachers in Burkina Faso

Thanks to your generosity, we are supplying the internationally-lauded SF Sunday school curriculum to about 40 Burkinabe brothers and sisters in Christ, in addition to one leader serving in Côte d'Ivoire. These believers are very involved in children's ministry and evangelism. Missionary Heidi Hayslip, who is sending the files, writes that they will be "very excited to have these to print on their own." Please pray for these servants of God, for the children they are nurturing, and for the Gospel to flourish in this predominantly Muslim country.

Meet Our New Board Members

We praise God for some new and returning faces to SF's board. Lynn Lockwood came back from her sabbatical, and former Board Advisor Ghislain Yamongbe is now a board member. We also welcomed:

Dan Duke, a linguistics consultant and missionary for Wycliffe Bible Translators. He lived with various rain forest groups (mostly hunter-gatherers) for over 30 years in Africa. He supports and trains Bible translators in Asia remotely from the US. He loves both French and promoting the Scriptures, so he is excited to join the work of SF.

Hannah Hamilton, who is soon to graduate with a BS in Elementary Education (Grand Canyon University). She is a Sunday School teacher and has volunteered 5+ years in the Gospel-sharing ministries of AWANA and Vacation Bible School. She is excited to use her degree and all her practical experience to teach kids and have the opportunity to spread the life-changing news of the Gospel in both word and deed.
